

From: Neil Ratzlaff
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 11/19/01 3:36pm
Subject: I want to be a federal criminal, too

After a surprisingly successful prosecution and resoundingly upheld conviction of Microsoft, the DOJ has decided that there are no penalties for breaking the law. Not even a token fine! Add to that travesty the lack of restrictions on future behavior, and even Bill Gates couldn't have come up with a more favorable settlement if he tried. You should be ashamed of yourselves.